Facility Overview

This long-standing dye shop was founded in 1833. For many years in the fishing town of Misaki Port, tairyo-bata flags (which have been named among Kanagawa's 100 famous products) have been made to pray for safe navigation with new vessels and to celebrate large catches. Each flag is dyed by hand using traditional techniques. The flags are also used as decorations for births, weddings, kanreki celebrations (60th birthdays) and store openings, for example.

Highlights

Participants can choose from four designs featuring a red sun and either tuna, sea bream, whale, or swordfish, and select their favorite colors for the dyeing. The Japanese characters can also be changed so that participants can create their own unique tairyo-bata.

Details/Schedule

Dyeing experience (mini tairyo-bata)

- Required time: Approx. 1 hour
- To change the Japanese characters, please request when booking (additional fee required)
- The finished product will be sent to the participant's home at a later date (so that the glue can be removed and the product finished)

*In principle, products can only be sent within Japan. Please inquire for overseas shipping.
