TSURUGAOKA HACHIMANGU

Explanation of Tourist Attraction

The Tsurugaoka Hachimangu was established in 1063 by Minamoto no Yoriyoshi. It was later resuscitated by Minamoto no Yoritomo, who moved the shrine to current location in 1180 and built it as a majestic and suitable shrine for the Kamakura Shogunate. The current main shrine was rebuilt in 1828 by Tokugawa Ienari who was the eleventh and longest-serving shogun during the Edo Shogunate. It is known to represent Edo architecture and has been designated as an important cultural asset of the country along with Wakamiya. Many tourists visit from all over the world.
