High-end holiday home resort popular with the Imperial family

Hayama is a popular summer retreat for the Emperor and Imperial family, while Zushi, located to the north of Hayama, is popular for marine sports. The area is known for its many high-end holiday homes and has become even more popular in recent years with the opening of a series of attractive private villas and lodgings limited to a few groups per day. There are many Michelin-starred restaurants and stylish cafes. Take a stroll around the area to discover the many attractions. You may find yourself falling in love with the area.

Luxuriate in stylish resort life

There are boutique hotels available only to a limited number of guests that offer spectacular views of Sagami Bay and Mount Fuji from the bedrooms, and private villas with easy access to the beach. Enjoy the slow life at these elegant and stylish lodgings.
